Anaesthesia Provisional Fellow

Full time – Fixed term 12 months (2 positions)

Closing Date: 11 November 2011

Applications are invited for Provisional Fellow positions in the Department of Anaesthesia, Christchurch Hospital, commencing in June 2012.

Christchurch Hospital is a busy tertiary hospital providing all the main surgical specialist services, including Cardiothoracic Surgery, Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Neurosurgery and Paediatric Surgery. The Department of Anaesthesia also provides services to the Spinal Injuries Unit at Burwood Hospital and runs a Hyperbaric Medicine service.

The Provisional Fellow positions are accredited by the Australian and New Zealand College of Anaesthetists and offer an ideal bridge between registrar training and consultant practice. Provisional Fellows are given an increased level of responsibility and manage a wide range of elective and acute cases. Where possible, sub-specialty interests will be accommodated.

Applicants must have passed the Final Fellowship Examination and be entering their fifth year of training (or equivalent).

Christchurch is a city of 350,000 people, located on the east coast of the South Island. The surrounding area offers many opportunities for outdoor pursuits, including skiing, mountain biking, hiking and kayaking.
